

Aqua Bounty Tech Inc - Directorate Change

November 10, 2015

Directorate Change

AquaBounty Technologies, Inc. (AIM: ABTX, ABTU; OTC: AQBТ), a biotechnology company focused on enhancing productivity in the aquaculture market, announces the appointment of Jack Anthony Bobo as a Non-Executive Director of the Company with immediate effect.

Mr. Bobo, aged 49, has significant expertise in the analysis and communication of global trends in biotechnology, food and agriculture to audiences around the world, and is currently Senior Vice President and Chief Communications Officer at Intrexon Corporation, Inc. (NYSE: XON) ("Intrexon"), a biotechnology company and majority shareholder in AquaBounty, a position he has held since July 2015. He joined Intrexon from the U.S. Department of State where he worked for thirteen years, most recently as Senior Advisor for Food Policy following his positions as Senior Advisor for Biotechnology as well as Chief, Biotechnology and Textile Trade Division. Prior to this, Mr. Bobo was an attorney at Crowell & Moring LLP. He received a J.D. from Indiana University School of Law and an M.S. in Environmental Science from Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs.

This appointment follows the resignation, with immediate effect, from the Board of Thomas Kasser who, since February 2013, has held one of the four Board positions allocated to Intrexon.

Richard Clothier, Chairman of AquaBounty, said: "I'd like to thank Tom for his support to the Company and wish him well in his future activity. We welcome Jack to the Board and look forward to his contribution especially as we prepare for the expected regulatory approval of our AquAdvantage® Salmon."

There are no other matters required to be disclosed pursuant to paragraph (g) of schedule 2 of the AIM Rules in relation to the new director.
